Dear Friend,

I am writing to ask you to lend your support to the Learning Disabilities Association of Halton.

The Learning Disabilities Association of Halton is a charitable organization, which has been serving the Halton community for the past 35 years. It provides a variety of services to assist families and the community on the many facets of learning disabilities. It is our goal to create public awareness of learning disabilities, by informing the public of the issues and challenges faced by people with these disabilities.

With this in mind, this coming fall, October 2009, we are planning to host a read-a-thon in South Halton public and Catholic elementary schools. The proceeds of Operation READ will go towards ensuring that support and services will continue to be available to all who are in need. As of right now many families are struggling, unaware that help and support is available. Not only will Operation READ help raise money to support Learning Disabilities services, it will also aid in the promotion of scientifically proven literacy practices.

With your support, for Operation Read, we can continue to provide many essential programs for individuals with Learning Disabilities, as well as their families, while promoting proper literacy practices for all. The programs that your support can help provide include;

- Parent support groups
- Direct service subsidies for needy families
- Distribution of printed information on LD's and scientifically proven literacy practices
- Community outreach programs
- Keyboarding, Reading, Math & Writing tutoring programs for LD children who struggle
- Running our Resource and Programming Centre
- Public lecture series

Your donation would be greatly appreciated. If you require additional information or wish to discuss this appeal further, please do not hesitate to contact me at (905) 333-1977.

Thank you for your consideration.

Yours Sincerely,

Heather Holden,
President.
